

First Manassas to Ball's Bluff

September 24 ~ 27, 2010

$382.00 per person (double occupancy)
single supplement $131.00

Our fall field trip will take us back to the beginning of the war. We will be based in Manassas, Virginia with a major area of concentration being the first battle of Manassas. We will also visit Centreville (including the Quaker Guns), Dranseville, and Ball's Bluff to name a few. Included in the cost of the trip is three nights lodging at the Manassas Hampton Inn, hot breakfast every morning at the hotel, round trip transportation via deluxe motor coach from Farmington Hills, four guides, all entrance fees, gratuities, and a farewell banquet dinner.

Since we had such a good time on our spring trip in Kentucky with several guides, we will have two nationally known historians spend this trip with us. Accompanying us will be Scott Patchan and Gary Ecelbarger. Scott is well known to us, having accompanied us on several tours. Gary is a renowned Civil War historian, Lincoln scholar, and author. Both these gentlemen have excellent and well deserved reputations as historians and authors and are well versed in the 1st Battle of Manassas and surrounding events.

Please join us for four days of camaraderie, education, and lots of fun. Both Scott and Gary have promised a delightful trip which is sure to include at least one bookstore stop! Send in your registration and deposit of $50.00 per person ASAP. Reservations are always made on a first come, first served basis. The $382.00 cost is a final figure. We will not be able to make reductions based on changes made by individuals in transportation, touring, etc.

Attention smokers: The hotel has a limited number of smoking rooms. If you need a smoker's room please notify Liz immediately.
